Biographical/Administrative History

John Patrick Enright was born on September 7, 1927. Ordained on May 1, 1953, he served 6 assignments in Chicago before being assigned to the Panama Mission from 1964 to 1976. He became pastor of Epiphany Parish and School when he returned from Panama in June of 1976. From June 30, 1997, Enright served as Pastor Emeritus of Epiphany Parish and continued to work in both the Archdiocese of Chicago and the Diocese of Joliet. Enright was appointed Co-Director of the Office of International Priests in December of 1998. This title was changed to Advisor for International Hispanic Priests five months later in May of 1999. Rev. John P. Enright died on February 14, 2011.

At Epiphany School's 75th anniversary in 1986, it was rededicated as a "Peace Primary". The decision came during Rev. Enright's time as pastor in response to the elevated levels of violence and drug culture in the area. The rededication included a reformed curriculum, altered interactions between teachers and students, and the involvement of families all towards the ends of peace advocacy and education. Among other efforts for peace, the school declared itself a "nuclear weapon free zone" before the Chicago City Council made their own similar declaration.

In early 1962, a proposal for missions in Latin America was sent to Cardinal Meyer. By 1963, the idea had become a reality, and three men were stationed in what would become the San Miguelito Panama Mission. The mission served the people of Panama through house building, community development programs, and ministry activities. Though the mission faced claims of heresy, Cardinal Cody stood by his representatives and the mission was cleared of the charges. This mission became the center for other Latin American missions, many parishes, and a seminary in Panama.

Scope & Content

The Rev. John P. Enright Collection consists of 10 boxes (9 letter size document boxes and 1 flat oversize box) and spans the years 1958 to 2005. The collection contains color slides, negatives, and photographic prints from Epiphany Parish and School, the San Miguelito Panama Mission, and Enright's trips to Ireland. Also included are personal letters, newspaper articles, reports, and commemorative booklets related to Epiphany Parish, Peace School, and the Panama Mission. While this is predominantly a photographic collection, other subjects include the rededication of Epiphany School as a Peace School, the trials faced in establishing the San Miguelito Mission in Panama, and Enright's role in both organizations.

Series Description

Series 1: Photographic Materials, 1958-1998, Boxes 1-8 & 10

Boxes 1-7 contain negatives and color slides from Enright's trips to Ireland, Panama, and his time as Pastor of Epiphany Parish and Epiphany School. Dates for these are approximate based on the slide creation dates. Folders maintain the original organization of slides which is usually based on subject. Boxes 8 and 10 contain photographic prints and art prints from the Panama Mission and Epiphany Parish and School. Box 10 is oversize material including large class composite photographs from Epiphany School.

Series 2: Papers, 1962-2005, Box 9

This series contains paper materials from Epiphany School and Parish, the Panama Mission, and a few letters of Enright's personal correspondence. Included are reports on the challenges faced in the early days of the San Miguelito Panama Mission as well as Enright's notes on these reports. Also included are two Peace Books from Epiphany Parish detailing the mission of the church and school as institutions of peace advocacy and education.
