Biographical/Administrative History

Angel Guardian Orphanage began as an alternative to the separate boys and girls orphanages that the diocese of Chicago operated to ensure the health, faith, and cultural heritage of German children. On May 15, 1865, a group of German priests and laymen established the orphanage on ten acres of land in Rosehill. Money to support the orphanage was raised by German parishes throughout Illinois.

Three years after the founding, members of the Poor Handmaids of Jesus Christ (who had come to the United States to serve German immigrants) took charge of the children. The original managers—Mr. and Mrs. Traufler—continued their service to Angel Guardian Orphanage as the farm managers.

On September 20, 1872, the Angel Guardian German Catholic Orphan Society of Chicago was officially incorporated. For 44 years, the Poor Handmaids of Jesus Christ maintained their charge over the children while a group of influential German laymen and priests made up the board that established policy and undertook fundraising.

After taking in members of parishes that burned in the 1871 Chicago fire, the original buildings on the orphanage's land burned on October 27, 1879. By 1880, new buildings had been dedicated. As of 1885, a 60 acre land purchase expanded the farmland owned by the Orphan Society and enabled them to feed the children almost exclusively on their own products.

In 1911, the society operated a manual training building where boys could be trained in farm work, printing, carpentry, tailoring, and auto maintenance. This building also made it possible for the society to care for dependent children placed by juvenile courts. In 1919, Angel Guardian Orphanage became a member of the Associated Catholic Charities of Chicago. Following a change in budgetary responsibility with their new status as a Catholic Charity, new buildings were added and operations expanded. In 1944, the high school became a full four-year program in order to prepare graduates better for the job market. Vocational training remained an important part of school life at Angel Guardian.

Father Eisenbacher, rector of Angel Guardian for 34 years, died in 1950, leaving Father Hillinger to take his place and to continue the building program he had only just begun. Father Leo J. Diebold replaced Farther Hillinger when he was appointed bishop of Rockford, Illinois. After Diebold's unexpected death in 1968, Father Niemeyer stepped into an increasingly difficult situation.

The Poor Handmaids of Jesus Christ were no longer able to staff the orphanage with the number of sisters required to teach and care for the children. In 1973, taking advantage of this weakness, the Department of Children and Family Services stepped in and insisted that children should not be living in institutions. On July 15, 1974, Angel Guardian Orphanage closed. Over the 109 years of operation, more than 20,000 children had been cared for.
